SMC'S QUEEN OF DAYS

Gary Williams

Sunset tints the horizon with shades of red.

As the monarch of the sky dies in the west,
the holy rest begins.

It is like this every week at SMC.

The Queen of days graces the lives of all.

Happy Valley rests under its royal scepter.

The teachers

the students welcome it with gladness.

It brings peace

relaxation

joy fellowship.

Unlike its sisters of the week,

the Sabbath is special for those at SMC.

The beauty of singing,

the melody of prayer,

the incense of praise,

the Word of God fills the day like the mountain dew.

Time with God and man,

Fellowship through loving-sharing growing together.

As the day of days ends in the sunlight of even,

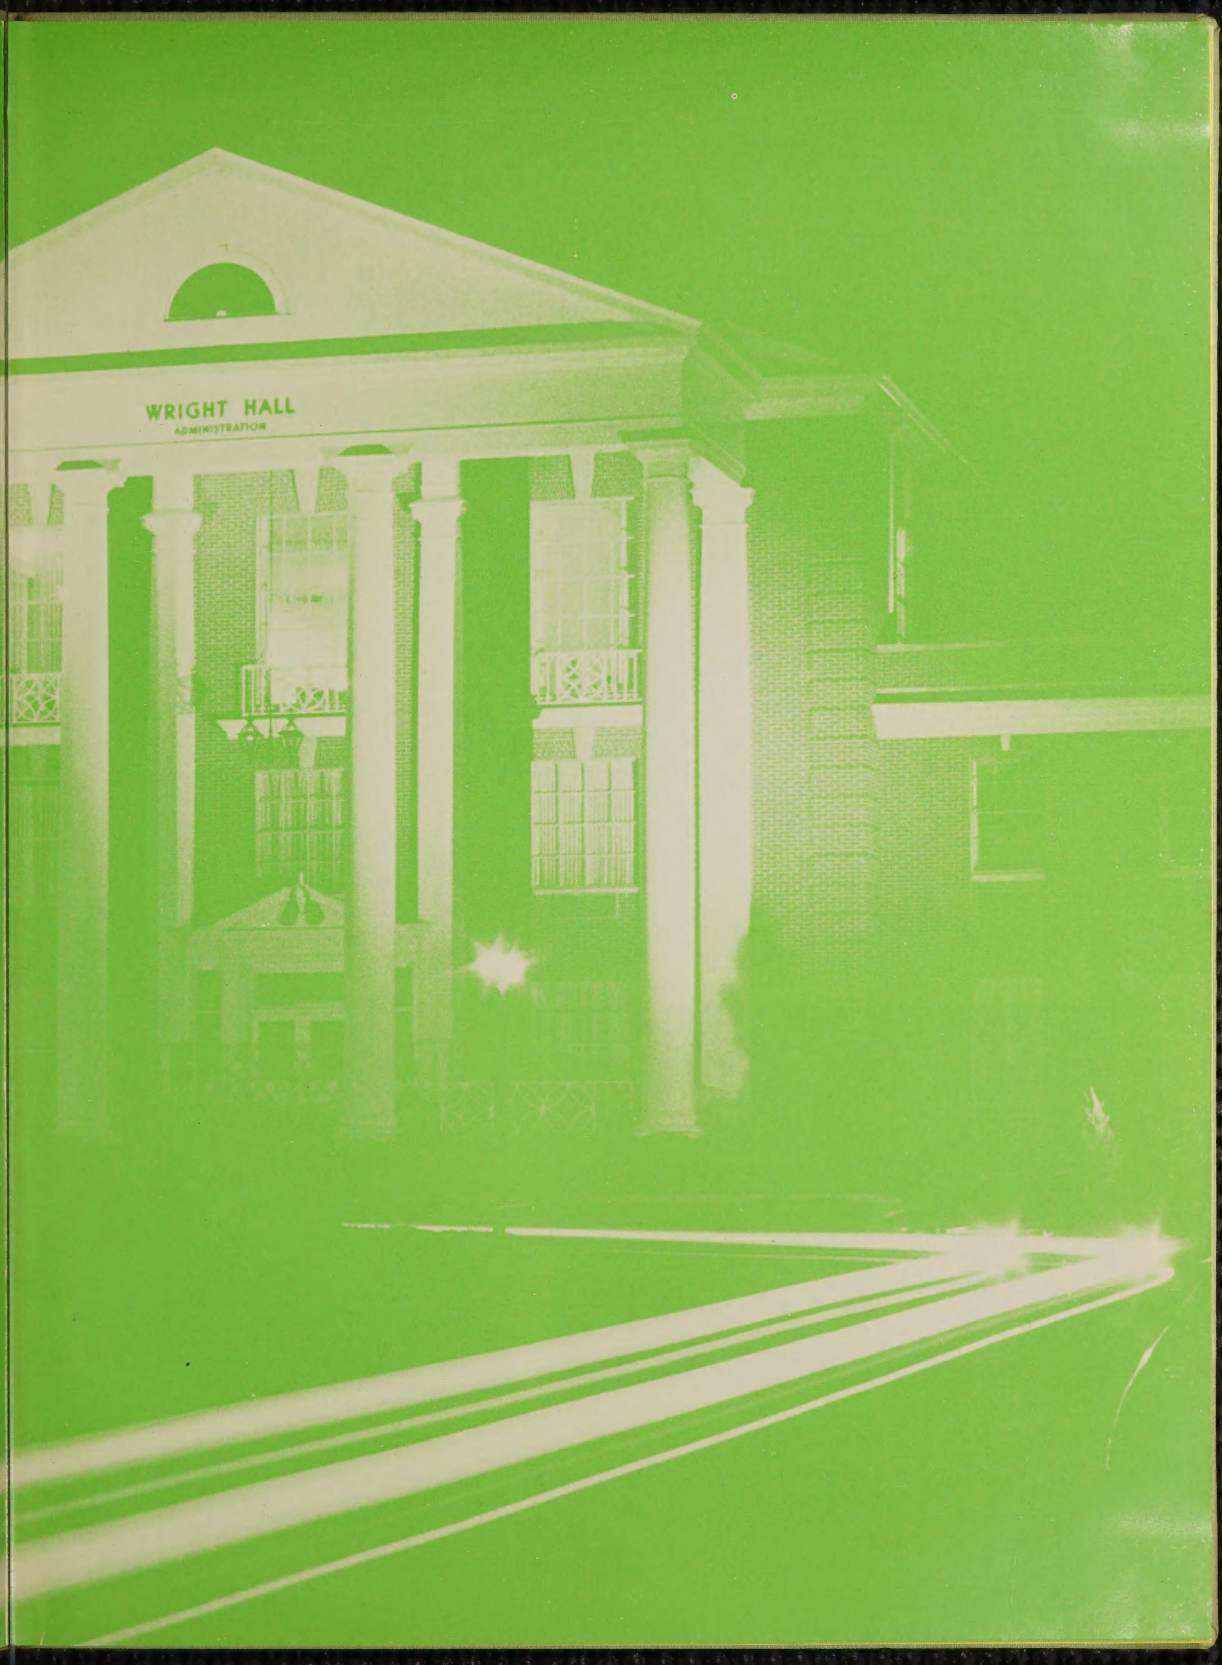

it leaves its refreshing-reviving-regenerating power behind to those who love its coming and who embrace it.

SMC is a jewel of light—

the Sabbath sets it aflame.

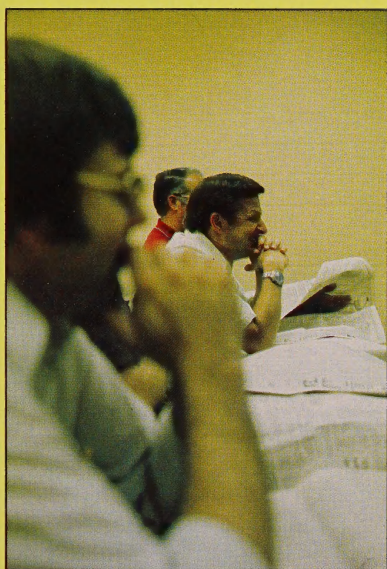

So it is at SMC.

Dedication

Kenneth R. Davis
Director of Counseling and Testing

Remembering you
when after a rough football game we relax in the healing steam of the sauna you built — when we find out we passed that CLEP test you had advised us to take — when we are cozily secluded with our respective girl and boy friends in your student center mountains —
for these things,
for your special, personal interest in SMC's students, we, the staff, would like to dedicate the 1978 edition of the Southern Memories
to you,
Elder K. R. Davis.

This Is SMC

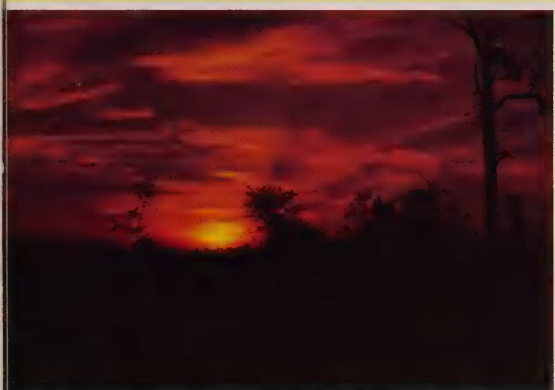

Let's see—
 S. M. C.
 What's it all about?
 Is it more than just a good place to scout (or to be scouted)
 for a wife?
 To prepare for a life
 work?
 Going to class,
 hoping to pass
 the final and graduate.
 Is there more than paying through the nose to obtain what those, our elders, consider the only education?
 How about a good place to spend four precious years, to make friends with our peers – having a ball.
 Is this all,
 or is there more?

Dennis Clark

SMC is people.

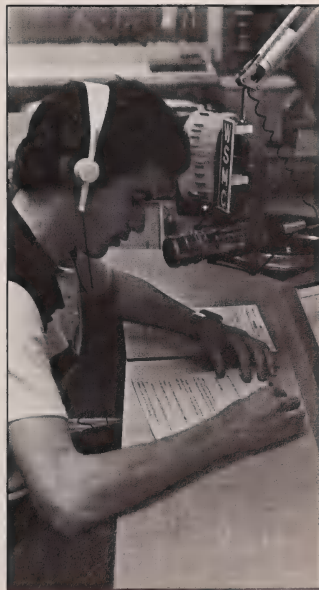

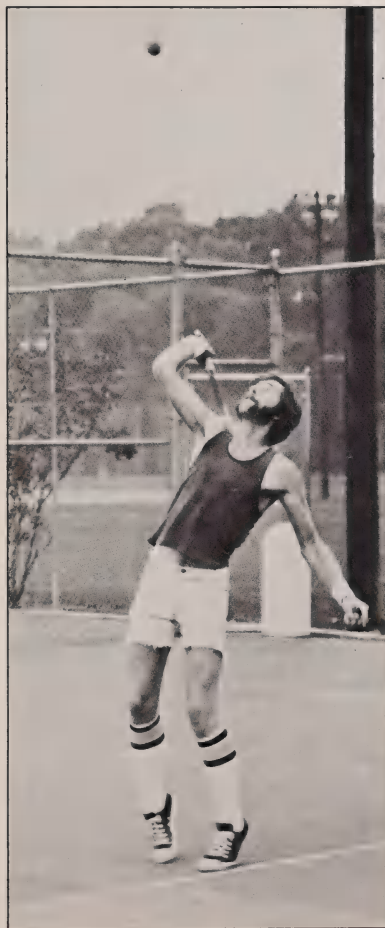

Busy people, laughing people, serious people.

Ambitious people, friendly people, spiritual people.

It is people studying, struggling to understand those Harbrace symbols in Freshman Comp or cramming for that nursing exam over the next module.

It is people playing, chasing a tennis ball at all hours of the day and in all seasons of the year, or dribbling a basketball down the court while all the adoring girls look on.

It is people worshipping, reverently kneeling in the dignified Collegedale sanctuary while the choir sings, or actively sharing their faith in the Bonny Oaks "little brother" project.

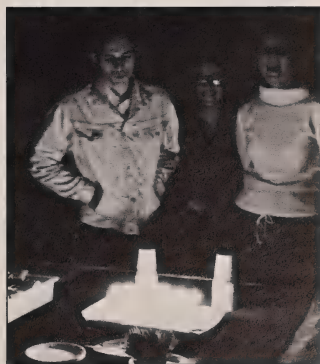

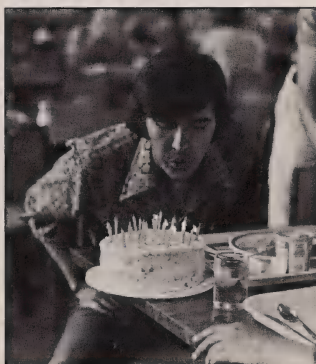

It is people in the dormitory, with golf on the halls of men's third west, with the domestic smells of cooking and laundry on the halls of Thatcher, with the sharing of adventures, loves, dreams, and disappointments among friends.

It is people at the Campus Kitchen, with cheese and mushroom omelettes for a late-morning brunch, with pizza and a gang of friends after the football game, with a Reese's peanut-butter cup milkshake as a break from the studies.

It is people in Collegedale, Tennessee, with the fall color on the surrounding hills, with foggy blue mornings, and with the famous everlasting rain.

SMC people.

The College Diary

Classical piano travel films pops concerts
mexican fiesta ballet
american folk music
hawaiian kodak show
college orchestra and band tucson boys' choir
and more.
Providing as wide a variety of as high caliber artists as possible, (within the budget)
the college promoted a series of cultured fine arts programs and a series of well-rounded students.

A leadership retreat was held the weekend before school started for SA officers and Sabbath school teachers. In the quiet and beautiful setting of Indian Creek Camp, Colin C. Cook, guest speaker, gave devotionals, emphasizing justification by faith and the responsibilities of leadership.

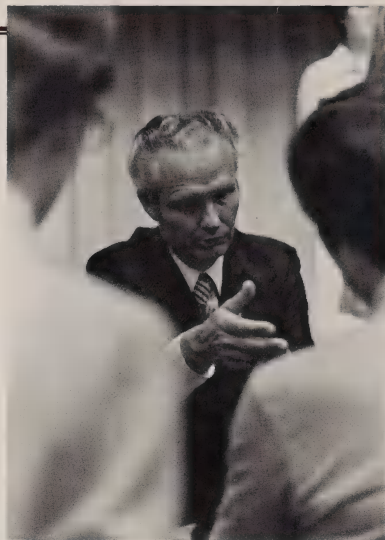

On August 29 and 30 registration was the usual necessary hassle of waiting in lines, filling out schedules, and getting JOKER pictures taken. Freshmen had the added frustration of taking CLEP and ACT tests. And then all students had to get settled in their new dormitory home.

Elder Jan Doward from the General Conference was SMC's guest speaker for the fall Week of Spiritual Emphasis, September 19-24. Elder Doward used an effective low-key approach, emphasizing Bible characters to illustrate his points. It was all so interesting that late-comers stayed to watch through the chapel doors.

SMC's great alumni homecoming weekend was held October 14-16. Honoring the classes of 1927, 1952, and 1967, the alumni spent a joyous reunion weekend in special meetings, banquets, and musical programs. Mrs. Minon Hamm, associate professor of English, was elected president of the Alumni Association.

Students took time from studies on Halloween Eve for a celebration. In the afternoon there were fun and games on the field. Then the crisp autumn evening was warmed by a bonfire, marshmallows, and hot cider. The traditional assortment of costumes ranged from the horrible to the hilarious.

Judy Martin and Melanee Snowden hosted Music at the Palace, the SA talent program. It was an evening of fine entertainment—music, comedy and drama—a display of the artistic talent inside SMC's serious scholars.

The traditional Christmas tree lighting was held on a cold clear evening after Thanksgiving vacation. Due to the weatherman's mistaken prediction of bad weather, most of the festivities were held indoors. Everyone sang carols in the spirit of the holiday. Santa Claus, alias Ken Rogers, arrived to throw candy over the audience, and have the pretty girls sit on his knee. Doughnuts and hot chocolate kept everyone warm outside by the lighted Christmas tree.

ARTIST ADVENTURE SERIES

The college band and orchestra combined to give a long-practiced concert of popular music for the students and community. This was just another example of the cultural enrichment at SMC.

The brilliant duo-pianist team of Ferrante and Teicher returned on Alumni Weekend to display their spectacular piano pyrotechnics and delightful wit in a unique evening of music and laughter.

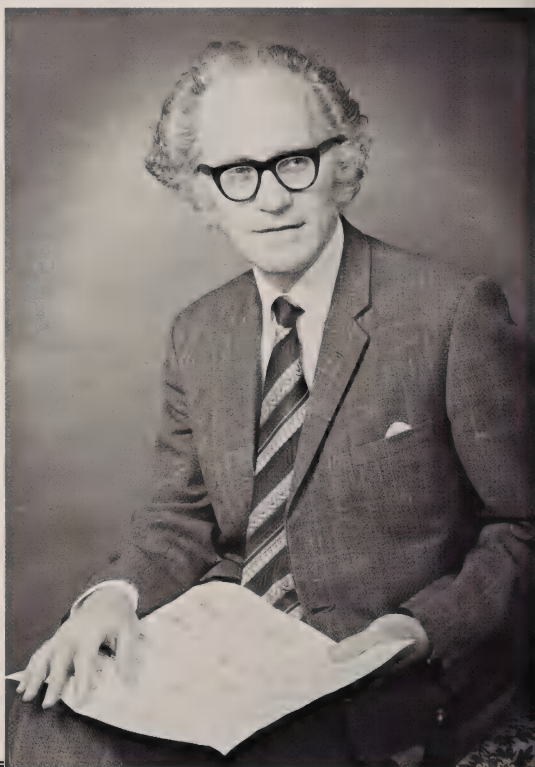

The Ballet Folklórico Mexicano, a cultural entity sponsored by the Mexican Government, gave a complex and moving presentation of their national traditions handed down through the centuries, preserved lively, sensitive, and colorful living dances.

A love for folklore and Kentucky's traditions led Dick and Anne Albin into collecting songs and stories which they blended into an entertaining concert full of old Kentucky culture.

Leslie Riskowitz, pianist, had concertized in Britain and Brussels, Amsterdam and Warsaw, Paris and Geneva. On his first concert tour to North America, he stopped at SMC.

Jay Craven, principal clarinetist for the Chattanooga Symphony and supervisor of music for the City Schools, performed with SMC orchestra as guest artist. Directing the orchestra was Orlo Gilbert, member of the SMC music faculty.

The SMC band gave a Christmas performance at which Santa was a welcome guest. Another very welcome guest was Miss South Carolina, Catherine Hinson, saxophone artist.

A physics teacher and violinist from Chattanooga, Joe Page, appeared as a solo artist on the SMC campus. He is also concertmaster of the Chattanooga Symphony.

Robert Hale and Dean Wilder, noted for their performances with the New York City Opera, were welcomed to SMC for their January concert.

The widely acclaimed Lucktenberg Trio—man, wife, and son—gave an innovative and authoritative performance of 18th century music.

Ted Bumiller guided the audience through the "Many Faces of France" in a film lecture traveling from the foggy cliffs of Brittany to the fields of Normandy, the great chateaux of the Loire River Valley, and the spectacular French Alps.

Later the Eastman Kodak Company photographers to Hawaii, "One of the most beautiful and unusual places on this planet," showed the glories of the Aloha island.

Michael Radulescu, professor in the department of church music at the Vienna Music Academy, gave a beautiful organ concert in the Collegedale church.

In February Collegedale welcomed the Tucson, Arizona, Boys' Choir, "these ambassadors in bluejeans from the land of cactus and canyons." The group, which has given over 2,000 international concerts, is chosen for both top voices and top grades in school.

Ralph Franklin in "Winnipeg West" took his viewers over the Trans-Canada Highway, showing scenes from this old wagon trail.

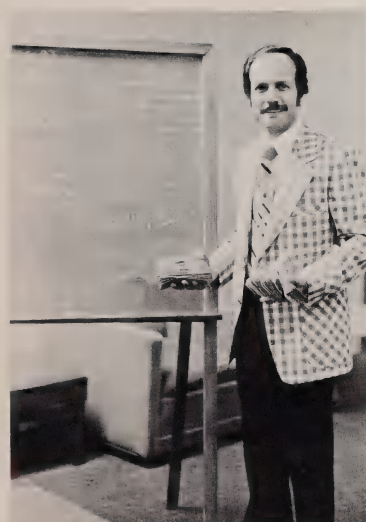

Igor Kipnis, widely recognized as the foremost harpsichordist of our day, displayed his talent in concert for the students and community at the PE Center in March.

Other talented and appreciated participants in the Artist Adventure Series were Emmanuele Verona, the Taylor Family, Judith Glass, Donald Runyan, Bruce Ashton, Robert Sage, Orlo Gilbert, Jack McClarty and William Cemer, Janet Sage, and SMC's musical groups.

Calvin and Pat Taylor, pianist and singer, gave two concerts at chapel and vespers.

The Dayspring pantomime group, organized by James Pappas from Pacific Union College, performed for Sabbath school and Friday evening vespers.

Adventism's famous Heritage Singers gave a spiritual concert in the Collegedale Church.

Local talent, the "Talgejuana Brass," entertained during the men's dorm open house.

Ron Scott, director of College Relations, shows the In-gathering total collected by students on Missions Field Day.

The Men's Club sponsored a romantic riverboat cruise down the Tennessee River one moonlit evening.

Pastor Jim Herman welcomes Desmond Hills, associate youth director of the General Conference, one of the several Friday night guest speakers he invited to speak at SMC. Dick Barron and Clay Farwell and others were also invited.

A CABL free blood pressure testing, directed by John Lazor, was held at Northgate Mall, Chattanooga.

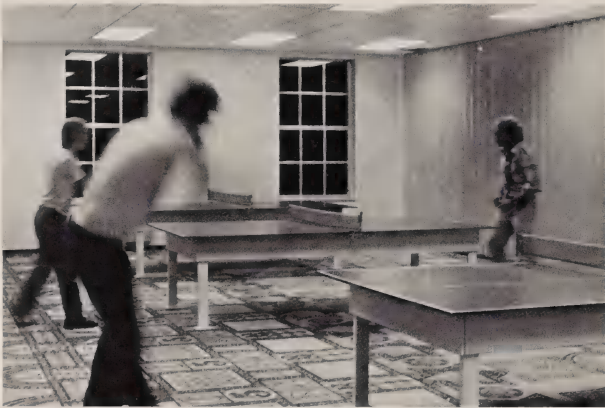

A human doll display among the Christmas-decorated rooms was part of the December open house in Thatcher Hall.

Round One Ends With Webster In First Place

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Webster	7	1	.875	-
Hunt	5	3	.625	2
Wohlers	6	4	.600	2
Runnells	4	3	.571	2½
Minder	5	5	.500	3
Whitehead	4	4	.500	3
Hickman	3	6	.333	4½
Martling	2	6	.250	5
Mobley	2	6	.250	5

The first round of the softball season ended last week with Webster taking a seemingly insurmountable lead into the second round. Wednesday, Webster continued his streak by winning a tight one over Mobley, in the final inning, 8-7. Mobley lost a heartbreaker with victory only three outs away. Hunt maintained a hold on second place by nipping Hickman in an extra-inning contest. After seven innings, the score was tied; Hunt finally scored in the eleventh inning for a final score of 11-10.

The second round of the season promises to be exciting. The general attitude of the games has been positive. Every team tries harder against Webster for the chance to knock off a front-runner. Pitchers can engage in a duel, which heightens the meaning of the game. Last week saw a contest of pitchers between Barts and Mosley. Mosley was ejected from the game after two warnings from the umpire. As the season approaches the end, tempers may rise and players may be ejected, but the fans have the most fun.

Softball Season Ends With Heavy Hitting

15	8	Martling	5	10	.333	7
16	9	Mobley	5	11	.320	7 1/2

Mobley and Martling played a close one Wednesday night, as yours truly saw it.

Martling had jumped out to an 11-0 lead in the first three innings. Suddenly, Mobley's bats came alive. Four runs here, three runs there, it all adds up. The score was 17-0 in the fifth innings with Martling still producing runs. In the sixth, Mobley tallied eight runs to pass Martling 18-17. In the seventh inning, Mobley added 4 insurance runs and Martling scored once. The final score was 22-18 and Mobley's bats were steaming. Wohlers team was waiting for their turn to play Mobley.

The temperature had dropped to about 45 degrees F. This might have had its effect because Mobley's hot bats strangely cooled down to a tepid degree. Wohlers team was swinging the big bat this time as they steam-rolled over Mobley 20-7.

Zarandona's First Taste Of Competition

□ Jack Kovalski

We have an Olympic runner right here on campus! Well, maybe not exactly, but even though the name Joshua Zarandona doesn't compare with such names as Frank Shorter and Lasse Viren, he shows the promise of a promising runner -- that is, if his first time in competition running last week is any indication as to his potential.

This past Sunday, the Athletic Attic cross-country was held, sponsored by the Chattanooga Track Club and the Athletic Attic. It started and ended here on the SMC campus. The competition was open to anyone who thought that they might have the ambition or strength to run in either the one mile or six mile cross-country race.

The race was divided into various classes depending upon age, therefore making it a fair race. Zarandona signed up for the six mile cross-country run and was registered in class "B" which included all men ages 17 to 23. Josh moved up almost immediately into sixth place over all. At the two mile point, he moved up to fifth place, a position he kept throughout the entire race until the last stretch, when he put it in gear, finishing fourth over all and capturing third place in his class. Bear in mind that this was Zarandona's first taste of competition alongside seasoned cross-country runners.

After the race I spoke with Zarandona and learned some enlightening facts. To begin with, he has been long-distance running consistently for approximately two and a half years, but has enjoyed long-distance running since his freshman year in academy.

"I was a little shrimp, and wanted to be good at something," Zarandona said. His definition of running includes seven to fifteen miles daily and sometimes even 20 or more, if the spirit moves him. What does he do during this time? "I study Greek flashcards, think, and often talk to God," he said. "Running clears my mind, helps me get away from pressure and think straight."

Zarandona detests running the oval track out on the field, and instead prefers running on the roads that surround Collegedale and the campus. Doing this has brought some interesting experiences. One that still stands out vividly in his mind is what happened to him the day after becoming a U.S. citizen. (He was born in Cuba.) He was running down the roadside against traffic and a car came into view. Zarandona finds that most drivers he meets on the road are quite friendly and usually return the wave of greeting he gives to motorists. This car, however, a nasty blue Falcon with two kids proved to be different. As he approached Joshua, a passenger opened his door, attempting to knock him off balance and forcing him to "do a mighty quick step!"

Then of course, there are the same dogs who always chase him. They actually are the initiators that spurs him on to finish his run without stopping, because Zarandona fears they'll make a snap out of him if they ever catch him.

Now a senior theology major, Zarandona not only believes

New Fun-Running Jogging

This year the CABL track club promises to be fun. Van Boddy, one of the leaders of the organization, runs approximately 15 miles a day. As a personal goal, Van would like to make the '80 Olympic team.

Boddy says, "The big thing now is fun-running." Fun-running is non-competitive in nature. "It's more of a social event. The runners are encouraged to talk to one another or to sing." This makes for a more enjoyable time without the pressure of racing against the clock. There are no awards, no clocks, and no losers.

The emphasis will be on maintaining health, Boddy says, but there are competitive events such as the all-comers meet held every Thursday at the Tyner High School. He would also like to sponsor a Marathon at SMC which would be the first one of its kind in the Southeast. (A Marathon is 26 miles, 385 yards).

Seminars will be held in nearby academies on weekends. The emphasis will be placed on positive motivation. Boddy plans to sponsor a run Sunday morning (The SMC Steeplechase) with awards, such as T-shirts or ribbons, to the top finishers.

There will also be seminars on campus with guest speakers like Dr. Kenneth Cooper, author of a book on aerobics for women. Other speakers will give advice such as care for the feet, how to avoid muscle strain, and starting your jogging program.

Join the CABL track club and have fun running.

Cross Country Run Here Oct. 16

The Fifth Annual Chattanooga Free Press cross country run will be held on the SMC campus Sunday, Oct. 16. The two mile course set through the student park and athletic field will accommodate three age categories.

Approximately 300 runners from the Southern states are expected to participate. In the past, many students from SMC have entered.

An individual does not have to be highly competitive to take part. All entries must pay $2 in advance and $2 on the day of the race.

Those interested should contact Dan Paul of Collegedale for entry blanks. All entrants will be awarded T-shirts, and the first three finishers will receive trophies. The race is open to men and women.

Golf Tourney Tees Off

The annual men's club fall Golf tourney was played at Moccasin Bend Sunday Oct. 2. Four teams struggled to win and Knarr's Nuggets with Ron Knarr, Warren Halversen, Delmar Lovejoy, and Tommy Davidson pulled through with one over par.

Jim Douglas came through as the overall winner for the fourth consecutive tourney. (Get rid of him). The flight winners were

A flight	Douglas	76
B flight	Evans	81
C flight	Lovejoy	89
D flight	Cochrell	86

Warren Halversen won the longest drive on the 8th hole and Ted Evans was second on the 13th hole. Closest to the pin contest was won by Ron Barts and Ted Evans.

It was not the best day for any of the golfers but there will be more tournaments to come.

Tennis Tourney Gets Highstrung

In tennis action Dean Halversen and Jim Wampler met on the courts and Halversen won. Jim Bair beat Ken Slate, Eddie Tompkins beat Del Schutte. Charles Pumphrey beat Rick Smith. Mark Turri beat Brad Schultz. Geoff Cabral beat Brooks Burnsed. Tom Baez beat Ron Barts. Get this -- Dean Evans beat Mike Brand!

Evans meets Baez; Cabral

meets Turri; Pumphrey meets Tompkins; Bair meets Halversen; all in the 4th round.

In consolation action, Mike Koerting beat Brad Pryor to advance to the semifinals. Jim Greve will meet the winner of the Haylock-Farwell match. David Slattery and Terry Ubran meet to decide who will play Ed Klein in the semis.

Savory

ood health principles, but also practices them. He has abstained from eating anything containing sugar for six years in an effort to keep his mind clear. He feels it is so fitting since it is for God's glory.

Now that Zarandona has gotten his taste of competition, he hopes and plans to be able to do it more. Let's all wish him good luck as he endeavors to prove that upholding the health principles will make him a better runner.

Michael J. Bryant: The Columnist Who Made History at SMC

A Solution to the Mess in Your Room

Michael J. Bryant is a sophomore from Ohio majoring in pre-school education. We dedicate this page to him not by chance but for a very special reason. He represents the spirit of dedication which identified this campus during the 1977-78 school year. Besides his easiness in making friends, Michael is well known for his column in the Southern Accent. That experience started him as an amateur journalist, and so great has been his success that now he is known outside the greater Collegedale area (among others, for example, Raymond H. Woolsey from the Review and Herald wrote to him expressing appreciation of his now-famous column). Here we reproduce one of his articles where he utilizes the method that characterizes him: take an aspect of the student life and look at it in a different, funny way.

For many Talge Hall residents, cleaning up their room, now that open house has come and gone, is an easy task. This is especially true for those who would not have cleaned their rooms in the first place, had it not been for the open house.

Every room is divided into four groups—under the bed, behind the dresser, crammed in the desk drawers, or in the closet. The difficulty lies in the fact that I'm not exactly sure what's in each group.

Everything that has not found its way into one of these groups, or has wandered out of one, soon finds a place in a pile.

Piles are there for several reasons. One is so you can have a maze in your room for exercise, as you walk around them all the time. (With a busy class and work schedule, who has time to exercise?) Also, if it wasn't for piles, you wouldn't know what to do with your prize junk and slightly dirty, half dirty, and filthy dirty clothes. You wouldn't want to get your slightly dirty clothes filthy by putting them in the filthy pile would you? The third reason in this series of college logic, is you might want people to think that you are a fairly neat slob, and that indeed there is an order to your mess of piles.

The corner is usually a good place to start a pile. It seems to grow dirty socks and other things that don't have enough sense to stay in your laundry hamper.

Another place that seems to continually have paper wads, etc., dropping around it is your garbage can tree.

A third place for a pile is in the sink.

After all, it is so inviting, with its mouth open wide, seeming to say, "I'll bet you can't resist feeding me wash clothes and soap." But little does the sink know that despite its big mouth it still has a hard time digesting more than one toothpaste cap at a time.

A fourth place—for your more displayable pile—is on top of the air conditioner. In this place you pile all your sports stuff, which you never (or seldom) use, so that the girls from the outside and the boys from the inside can see what an athlete you are. Some items you might find in this pile would be your two tennis rackets, tons of balls, (which you got from different people for Xmas and birthday presents several years back, and never used); two motorcycle helmets that you can't use because your bike needs to be fixed and all your money has gone on your statement; two inner-tubes that have been up there so long that you don't know which is good and which is not; an often-used skateboard (because you're too lazy to walk); an air freshener; and (for good measure) a sign asking God to be patient with you.

But the pile of all piles is your weeping closettree. It's the place where you put all the things that need to be hung up and there is no room in your closet, since it already took all your weight to close it. Atop this elongated pile of sadness are ties, belts, headphones, shirts, socks, hiking boots, and all your suspenders, which can act as quick clothes lines when need be.

Yes, you might be surprised just how fast the rooms go back to normal after an open house.

By the way, we still haven't found the pet snake that got loose. Who knows which pile he's in!

Talking about people may not be a difficult talent to find. But when you want to talk about what some people mean to you, what they have done for you, the way they have inspired you, sharing their experiences, sorrows, and joys with you, then the assignment becomes a rather difficult task to be completed.

In my work as editor of this annual, I have been confronted by the interchange of ideas and personalities as they flow from people very close to me, people that I love, respect, and admire: they are the members of my staff. I want to let you know just a little bit about them, who they are, and what they have done in the production of these pages.

We were lucky to have Debbie Gainer as our copy editor this year. She was strongly recommended to me by some instructors from the English department. A few of her writings have been published in well-known SDA periodicals such as Guide, and Insight, and she was also one of the reporters for The Southern Accent. I'm still amazed at her ease in writing just about anything, and also at her diverse cultural background. She is responsible for all the copy in the annual except where it's otherwise indicated. Thank you, Debbie, for your always-present willingness, and for lightening our office with your beauty.

Rick Blondo was in charge of public relations. He was primarily responsible for making the interviews for the soundsheet, for posting different messages around campus as we needed them, and for getting the appointments when we were going to take pictures. I shall always remember his enthusiasm, always something new to share with me. You inspired me, Rick.

I needed a secretary of course. I met Kathy Neufeld while working in the cataloging office at McKee Library. We both were working for Miss Bennett, the head cataloger, and with whom I had some "problems" because she appreciated Kathy's work in the Library just as much as I did in my office, and since Kathy worked on a basis of I'll - call - you - when - I - need - you, "problems" did arise. I would like to say that I almost fell in love with her, but she wouldn't accept me because I was always telling her how terrific she was.

A former editor of The Southern Accent, Don Jehle, had the tremendous job of being our photographer. I met him while working as his layout editor in the Accent, and we became good buddies. He is an outstanding student and friend. He has vast experience as a journalist, has been in editorial positions a few times, and was chosen at SMC for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Among other things, he had to develop all the senior informal shots and the faculty family pictures, which was an extra responsibility for him. I surely appreciate all that help, Don.

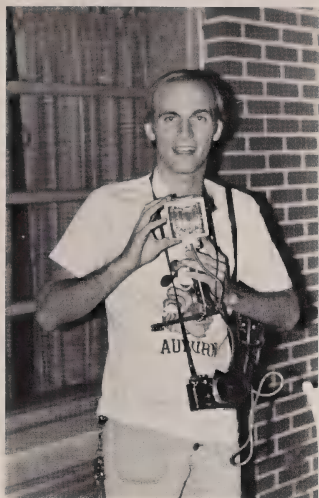

Rick Stier, a business major from Illinois, was in charge of getting part of our ads. Thanks to him and to Raymond we received enough money to finish with some credit in our account, and because of our increase in sales (the College Relations department bought 400 copies) and the money from the ads we were able to produce the sound-sheet and supplement. I wish you the greatest success in the business world, Rick.

Raymond Earle is another business major who took care of our finances and collected money from ads (as well as paid our bills). In spite of his busy schedule he did a tremendous job, which I'm sure was great experience for him.

I'm indebted to Mrs. Sue Baker, our sponsor. She was always behind me to get those pages done, and if it hadn't been for her help, this yearbook wouldn't be in your hands at this time. She has been the sponsor of the annual for three years now, and she might continue her work here because of her positive participation. I shall remember you always for your understanding, Mrs. Baker, and thanks, not only for your inspiration, but also for your instruction in college composition.

Rick Stier

I don't want to forget about Mr. Noble Vining from the College Press. He did what nobody else could have done in transforming our layout sheets into a fine yearbook. Even when we didn't meet our deadlines, he got it done.

I took care of the layout myself. I enjoyed it too much to let anybody else do it. I hope you'll like it.

And finally, thanks to all those who voted for me, giving me the opportunity to do something for my school. It is my deepest desire that this yearbook may help you to remember this institution of God, the people that you lived with, the teachers that offered you orientation, counseling, and instruction, and the spiritual atmosphere that gave you maturity to continue your trip on earth and to be victorious.

May you all have peace.

Jose Bourget

Jose Bourget was born in the Dominican Republic. He has an Hinduish - Spanish - Lebanese background and has enjoyed living in this culture. He graduated this year with a B.A. in theology and four minors. During his two years at SMC he was also the managing editor and layout editor of HOPE as well as layout editor of The Southern Accent. He will be going to the Ivory Coast, West Africa, as a volunteer for nine months beginning in September. There he will teach Spanish at the SDA Academy at Bouake, and after that he plans to return to his country to work as a minister.

Because We Love Each Other...

The old saying goes that in the spring a young man's heart turns to thoughts of love. Here, the young men AND women don't even wait for spring; they managed to fall in love in the midst of October rain or January snow. SMC, often nicknamed Southern Matrimonial College, came through true to form this year. A total of 72 people either made or accepted marriage proposals, and spring was time for the usual round of engagement parties and bridal showers. The sun came out and the hearts-and-flowers began to bloom. SMC agrees with Shakespeare that "all the world loves a lover."

The College Press personnel appreciate the understanding of the administration and the college board in authorizing the purchase of modern equipment. The most recent addition is the Four Color Crabtree Vickers Offset Press, installed during 1977. For the first time the color pages of SOUTHERN MEMORIES were printed with one time through the press for each side of the paper for the four process colors, Yellow, Magenta, Cyan and Black. The color pages of the Southern Tidings are also printed on this press.

Another historical first is that most of the color separations were made on an electronic scanner using a laser beam as the light source. The laser beam is so controllable that it forms its own screen dots and eliminates the use of a conventional film screen to form them. These pictures are the first printed by The College Press from this type of separation which is the very latest technique.

“And Knowledge Shall Be Increased . . .”

About the time the Monotype system was installed by The College Press, motorcycle racing was quite a fad. In the area where the Atlanta Municipal Airport is now located there was an oval motorcycle race track. The center was level and made a convenient landing strip for the pair of old two-place, open cockpit, World War I bi-planes that found a home there. This was the beginning of what is now known as the world's second busiest airport.

The College Press hasn't grown in size comparable to the Atlanta Airport but technologically, in the graphic arts field, it has kept apace.

Through the years many hundreds of students have learned something of the art of printing at The College Press, which is virtually an on-the-job classroom. Many of these students are serving the Lord in various capacities and have contributed to our publishing work throughout the world.

Indeed knowledge has mushroomed during the past half century and world events leave no doubt but that our Lord's return is relatively imminent. The College Press staff extends best wishes to the graduates of SMC as they face the realities of today's world.

no one can teach us to hate

GREATNESS is to leave in the furrow of life the abundant seed of a generous heart; to walk through the dusty valley where the poor and disinherited of the earth are furred to travel, exchanging their bitterness and displeasure for real joys and satisfactions; to wear the samials of humility and traverse the roads of life, removing the reefs and stones on which the helpless and the forgotten ones stumble.

GREATNESS is to mitigate the bitter mourning of the widow with action, in words of kindness and sympathy; to silence the weeping of a child with a kiss impregnated with love; to fill the emptiness of an orphan's heart with paternal understanding and affection; to drive affliction from the hearts that wither under their load of sorrow and fill them again with the delight of a meaningful life.

GREATNESS is to show the pilgrim the way he must travel; to share the light of truth with the souls that struggle in the darkness of error; to give spiritual warmth to the lonely hearts that shiver in the coldness of human indifference; to offer the water of heaven to a brother that faints in his thirst for justice, for love, and for truth.

GREATNESS is to love—to love much and to love everyone; to gather thorns and sow flowers; to give to life more than what one gets out of it.

Therefore, if your heart beats greatness, if your chest requires the alack of the simple, don't let the artificial glory of the false heroes seduce you. Today they exhibit their greatness on high; tomorrow only a trail of ashes will remain of their luminous wake, and a shapeless shadow where their lives faded away.

But you be humble and be brave. Step out of the crowd to become what God wants you to be. Don't mind missing the applause of the world but live each day in reference to the end. Also that in following you others may come closer to God, and walk so that whoever follows in your steps may find a flower in every footprint and a pearl of truth and beauty wherever your heart inst another drop of life.

And if later, looking back from the end of the journey, you see that the world was so afflicted by you, then stay, you may close your eyes with a departing smile; you will have achieved true GREATNESS.
